“We’re extremely excited to support members in planning these courses,” said Karla Thompson, technical lead for the U.S. Soccer C License course. “It is an ambitious number of courses and it will involve a great number of instructors, mentors and organizational support from our members. We look forward to working with the coaching candidates and guiding them through the process.”

The C License course covers tasks such as coaching training sessions, coaching games, leading the player, leading the team, managing the performance environment and more.

COVID-19 safety is the priority for U.S. Soccer Coaching Education and many of this year’s C License courses will begin virtually due to the ongoing conditions of the pandemic. When it’s safe for in-person courses to resume, members will follow safety protocols to ensure the well-being of all participants.
